

Reserve Health Readiness Program

At LHI, we provide the best in health services to the men and women who keep our country safe through the Reserve Health Readiness Program (RHRP). Since 2001, LHI has been a strategic partner of the Department of Defense, increasing the readiness of its Reserve and National Guard components.

Customized health care solutions

LHI specializes in creating and managing health care solutions through:

- Health readiness events
- Patient-specific, in-clinic appointments
- Telephonic assessments
- A customizable combination of the above, based on customer need

Health readiness events: For large groups, LHI brings health services to you. We provide the staff, supplies and equipment necessary to set up mobile services wherever needed.

In clinic: LHI's nationwide network of medical and dental providers allows for convenient access to health services for individual patients, close to home.

Contact center: LHI's innovative technology offers a variety of communication channels to schedule in-clinic services, provide telephonic assessments, access triage and counseling services, provide case management and more.

Dedicated facilities: For customers with a large number of employees in one location that need services at different times or intervals.
